COMMISSIONERS' REPORT.

To the Citizens of Cheshire County :

As required by the statutes, the following reports of county officers and employes are submitted to you.

The last report alluded to the increase of expense each year and the necessity of laws to control the same.

A question was raised as to the meaning of the paragraph just alluded to.

This was intended to refer to the laws of the state allowing the marriage of paupers mentally defective, and epileptics and such persons, as from past experience, it has been found, that the children of these people generally became a county charge.

The crops at the farm this year have been abundant, but the heavy loss caused by hog cholera, the necessity of destroying the pens and building new ones, has reduced the income and added to the expenses of the farm.

A new silo has been built and new electrical apparatus has been installed, which provides power for many of the working machines and also lights the buildings in a satisfactory way.

A heavy expense was incurred by the county on account of the Wren trial. This will be noted by referring to the report of costs and fees.

On the 1st and 3d Fridays of each month the commissioners are in session at their office in the Court House, and will show the accounts to interested people.

MARQUIS O. SPAULDING,
FRANK A. DAVIS,
DANIEL R. COLE,
County Commissioners.

L. W. HOLMES,
Clerk Superior Court.

SOLICITOR'S REPORT.

To the Honorable Board of County Commissioners:

Gentlemen:—During the year just passed several matters of considerable importance, involving great expenditures, have demanded my attention as solicitor.

At the April, 1913, term of the superior court disposition was made of the following matters:

Edward J. Patenode, who was held to await the action of the grand jury on the charge of highway robbery, Harold F. Eastman and Clesson G. Bragg were arraigned upon an indictment for aiding a prisoner to escape. These men assaulted the jailor, Patenode wielding the club. Patenode pleaded guilty to aiding the escape of a prisoner and was sentenced to not less than two nor more than three years in state prison. Eastman pleaded guilty to the larceny of a large sum of money from the American Express Co. in Winchester and was sentenced to state prison for not less than three years nor more than five years. He was indicted in April, 1911. Bragg pleaded guilty to burglary and the matter was continued for sentence. He is a young fellow and the court and solicitor were of the opinion that he should be given an opportunity to reform.

Jesse Brown pleaded guilty to keeping liquor for sale. Paid a fine of $50.00 and costs and received a jail sentence of sixty days, which was suspended.

Josiah C. Stebbins pleaded guilty to lascivious behavior and received a sentence of six months in jail.

On February 5, 1913, occurred one of the most brutal and unprovoked murders in the history of the county. John H. Wren was traced to Nova Scotia and after a long and somewhat expensive process was extradited and returned to this county for trial, charged with the murder of J. Stewart Hamilton at Hinsdale.

The murder was committed upon the construction work being done by the Boston & Maine railroad, upon which work Hamilton was one of the most responsible employees and Wren had been employed. Owing to the character of the testimony and the fact that the witnesses had become somewhat scattered from necessity, the trial was a long and expensive one, there having been more than sixty witnesses for the state. During its preparation the depositions of many witnesses were taken by the defense, involving further expense on behalf of the state. The trial ended on the third day of July. During its progress no effort was spared to give to the defendant an absolutely fair and impartial trial. The evidence was of such a character that the jury, after careful consideration and without hesitation, found the respondent guilty of murder in the first degree, but without inflicting capital punishment. Exceptions were taken during the trial, and various motions have been made since, in the attempt to set aside the verdict, but the bill of exceptions has not as yet been transferred. The motions for new trial which have been filed by the defendant were, after careful and conscientious consideration by the trial judges, denied so that the matter now rests upon the exceptions taken in the course of the trial. From the character of these exceptions, I am of the opinion that the verdict will not be set aside.

At the October, 1913, term of the Superior Court, Edward J. Thompson pleaded guilty to adultery. He had been in jail for six months and the case was marked "Continued for sentence" during the good behavior of the defendant.

William DeBell was indicted for rape. He had been brought before the police court and allowed to go on his own recognizance awaiting the production of evidence. He had since been arrested in Vermont and is now awaiting trial.

James Constantino was indicted for an assault with intent to kill. Insanity was suggested by his counsel and he was committed to the state hospital until the April, 1914, term of court for observation as to his sanity. At that time it is expected that disposition will be made of the case.

Margaret Fish was indicted for adultery and the case was continued, she being the companion of Edward J. Thompson. Owing to the fact that she was the mother of several small children, it was deemed best to give her an opportunity to reform and the case was so disposed of for the time being with that object in view.

August Macki pleaded guilty to keeping liquor for sale in Fitzwilliam. The particular charge in this case was procuring and furnishing liquor to an insane woman. He was kept in jail for some time and the case was, with the consent of the prosecuting officer of Fitzwilliam, continued for sentence.

Willie H. Smith of Hinsdale was indicted for keeping liquor for sale and the case was continued on the payment of costs. The evidence in this case disclosed that the defendant had procured for others rather than kept for sale.

John MacMunn was indicted for arson, pleaded guilty and was sentenced to not less than one nor more than two years in state prison.

Avery Bordeau was indicted for attempt to commit rape, pleaded nolo contendere, and was sentenced to not less than two nor more than three years in state prison.

John Connell was indicted for keeping liquor for sale. He had fled the jurisdiction of the court but has since been arrested and has given bail. The matter will come before the court in April, 1914.

There are two appeals from Police Courts which have not as yet been disposed of—one of Matt Nishannen, which is an appeal from the Police Court of Troy, which found the respondent guilty of being drunk. The case was entered at such time during the October term that it could not be disposed of. The other case was that of Sidney Dean, an appeal from the Police Court for the District of Keene, on a charge of putting in fear, in which it was sought to place the defendant under bonds to keep the peace. As he was required to give bail, the appeal accomplished the object of the prosecution. The matter will be disposed of in the Superior Court in April.

On the night of December 24th, 1913, at about nine o'clock, the officers were notified of the fact of an assault in Surry and immediately proceeded to the alleged scene to investigate. The information which reached them by telephone did not disclose the serious nature of the case, but it subsequently developed that murder had been committed. Matti Kivela is now in jail, awaiting the action of the Grand Jury in April, charged with the murder of Mike Johnson on the night in question. He will be tried in April.

There have been various minor matters disposed of in the various police and district courts in the county. There have also been civil matters which have been similarly disposed of. There is no matter now pending in court involving the county.

I have always been an advocate of the district court system, believing that it is better that there be a court of inferior jurisdiction to relieve the superior court of a great deal of work which unnecessarily comes before it. The theory adopted by the last legislature is a good one and had political considerations been disregarded, we would now have an efficient district court system. The manner in which the county is divided at present, however, is much more expensive and less efficient than would obtain were the county to constitute but a single district. At present there are five districts with courts situated at Walpole, Winchester, East Jaffrey and Troy. The difficulty experienced in securing able and efficient justices learned in the law is well illustrated in the Police Court for the District of Troy, consisting of the towns of Troy and Fitzwilliam. The justice originally appointed resigned and no one has been found who is willing to take his place. Therefore, the exact status of prosecutions in that district is somewhat indeterminate and unsatisfactory. The manner in which the county is divided suggests reminiscences of the famous "shoestring" senatorial district. The county could well afford to maintain a district court and provide a courtroom for it, such court to be presided over by a person of legal training and sufficient experience to enable him to dispense justice wisely and well. This suggestion is not to be interpreted as a criticism of the personnel of the courts, but rather in the light of a recommendation that the commissioners use such influence as they possess to so amend the law that justice may be more efficiently and economically administered.

Another matter which has come to my attention is the method by which contracts for supplies are now made on behalf of the county. It seems that there is no general purchasing agent for the various institutions and that the only record of expenditures incurred or contracts made is when the bills for supplies are presented to the Commissioners. It seems to me that authority should be limited to a few persons who should be required to keep a record in duplicate of all purchases made, the duplicate to be signed by the purchasing agent and the seller, and reported monthly on the last day of each calendar month as vouchers to the Commissioners. The present system, it seems to me, is extremely unbusinesslike and open to criticism. A private concern who attempted to do business in that way would quickly find itself involved. There is no reason why the public business should be done in any less efficient manner than that of a private corporation. The facilities for properly doing business are so easily provided that this evil should be corrected.

In connection with the liquor business, while the situation generally is more satisfactory, the county officials find extreme difficulty in securing evidence in districts remote from Keene. The selectmen of towns seem to have a theory that they are entirely relieved from the obligation to prosecute. It may be necessary, in order to impress upon them the fact that the law imposing the law upon them has not been changed, to proceed against them in some instances, but I believe that if the matter is properly called to their attention by the Commissioners their cooperation will be secured. The only criticism in this behalf that I have to offer is that the selectmen in some places not only fail to perform the duty imposed upon them in prosecuting local offenders, but one instance has been called to my attention in which it is reported that a selectman had so far forgotten his duty as to have information conveyed to an offender of proposed action by the county authorities. The proper remedy of this condition is that the towns shall elect officers who are in sympathy with the sentiment manifested by the voters of the town in voting for no-license. Public condemnation is the surest cure for such evils.

The county has by legislative act been recently charged with the custody of all offenders committed under the chapter of the Public Statutes relating to police offences. In view of the fact that all persons committed for drunkenness and minor offenses of this character are now sent to the House of Correction and in view of the escapes which has been made in the past from the House of Correction, some additional provision should be made for preventing escapes therefrom. The object sought to be accomplished by the imprisonment of these offenders should not be frustrated by a failure to provide proper safeguards.

O. E. CAIN,
Solicitor.

Court House.

Meeting was called by County Commissioners at request of the Keene Commercial Club and various other interested parties in the county, for the purpose of the advisability of securing a county agent for the development of the farm industry in said county, as provided for in Chapter 10 of the Session Laws of 1913.

Meeting called to order at 1.50 p. m. by Hon. M. V. B. Clark. The call of the meeting was read, and the roll called by the secretary. The roll-call showed that only twelve members of the delegation, out of the possible thirty, were present.

Mayor Shedd of Keene stated the reason for calling the meeting. It was due to a resolution introduced by him and passed by the Commercial Club, asking the County Commissioners to call such a meeting. The Commercial Club took hold of it, believing that it was necessary to have some central body to initiate a movement of this kind.

Representative Beaman of Cornish, N. H., the author of the act passed in 1913, spoke of the work in securing a county agent in Sullivan county and that results that have been accomplished. They had started an agricultural association, and they were to raise an equal sum together with the sum of $1200 voted by the County Delegation. An executive committee, consisting of the County Commissioners and two others had the management of this association and looked after the funds.

Mr. Eastman, the agent of Sullivan County, spoke of his work, and Mr. L. G. Dodge of the United States Department of Agriculture spoke of the work of the government to assist the counties throughout the United States. The reason why the government cannot help financially at the present time is owing to lack of funds; so many counties having applied that the appropriation has been overdrawn. Some counties in Vermont took all the funds that were not set aside for New England. The principal duties of the county agent are to help better farming conditions in the counties; give information on matters in which the farmers are more or less unfamiliar, such as pointing out the work that farmers in other places have succeeded in, etc., a sort of clearing-house for information. The qualities of a county agent should be farm bred, graduate of a four years' course in an agricultural college, should have some practical experience after he gets out of college and have good horse sense.

Prof. J. C. Kendall of Durham college spoke of various experiments done at Durham to improve farming conditions throughout New Hampshire, experiments covering improvements in dairying, care and cultivation of orchards, etc., was heartily in favor of a county agent plan.

Prof. Stowell of Dublin, and Mr. Higgins, secretary of the agricultural society of Marlboro, spoke in favor of the plan of a county agent. Representative O'Neil of Walpole favored the plan as a practical proposition, but called attention to the small attendance of members of the delegation as well as farmers throughout the county; doubting the success of the movement until there was more of a demand for it.

Mayor Shedd and Representative Beaman answered Mr. O'Neil believing that a start was to be made first before interest and enthusiasm could be aroused.

Mr. Andrew Gibson of Keene stated that what the farmers most needed was a market, and Mr. Dodge answered Mr. Gibson that it would be the duty of the county agent to secure better markets.

No one else volunteered to speak upon the proposition, and Representative O'Neil of Walpole, then made the following motion: "Moved: That the sum of twelve hundred dollars be raised by county taxation, for the year 1914, to provide for the appointment of a county agent under the provisions of Chapter 10 of the Session Laws of 1913, provided, however, that a like sum of twelve hundred dollars be raised within three months by popular subscription by other interested parties." This motion was seconded by Representative Davis of Keene, and was passed by an almost unanimous vote, only one representative voting against it.

Mr. O'Neil then offered the following motion: "Moved:

That this sum of twelve hundred dollars voted by the county convention be turned over to the County Commissioners, and they shall act as agents for the county to disburse the money and to carry out the provisions of Section 10 of the Session Laws of 1913, provided that amount to be raised by subscription shall be raised or pledged within the three months." This motion was seconded by Senator Huntress and duly passed.

On motion of Representative Cutter, the meeting adjourned at 3.30 p. m.
